China To Be Net Grain Importer, As Supplies Continue To Fall

Grain Supply

■ Production ■ Carryin Stocks

Grain Trade

■ C. Grains ■ Wheat ■ Rice

China this year is expected to return as a net grain importer for the first time in nearly a decade as production, although up, remains below consumption and supplies continue to tighten. For wheat, exports have slowed considerably in recent months while imports have surged to nearly a million tons a month. Despite large imports and higher production, stocks are expected to continue to shrink, albeit at a much slower rate than in previous years. For corn, despite the recent approval of 3 million tons of export quotas, the government appears to be no longer intent on supporting exports with subsidies, without which exporters cannot compete in the international market. Since the announcement of the quotas last month, both JGG and COFCO (the only two state-authorized exporters) have been slow in signing up new contracts. For rice, although production is expected to increase, exports will drop below traditional levels. Shipments in the last few months have nearly disappeared as it seems the government has turned its focus to supplying the domestic rather than the international market.

WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE: COMMENTARY AND CURRENT DATA

WHEAT: WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE

MONTHLY HIGHLIGHTS:

Balkan Wheat Returns to the World Market: Romania and Bulgaria are both returning as net exporters this year, as production has rebounded from last year's record lows. Exports should return to more normal levels. However, while large quantities went to the EU-25 in previous years, an agreement now caps the amount with zero import duty at 275,000 tons for Bulgaria and 230,000 for Romania. Bulgaria's quota has already been filled, with shipments primarily to Spain. These quotas could therefore lead to a greater portion of sales to markets outside Europe. Bulgaria has already sold wheat to North African markets and even to Bangladesh.

PRICES:

Domestic: Prices during August declined through mid-month on larger crop prospects and more competition, but then moved upward with strong export sales and concern over bad weather in the Northern Plains.

For the week ending September 3, average HRW prices were $2 a ton higher and SRW was $5 a ton higher than the first week of August. HRS prices gained $12 a ton while SWW ended the month with a gain of $1 a ton.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2004/2005

Selected Exporters

- Bulgaria up 100,000 tons to 800,000 in light of higher production.
- Kazakhstan down 1.0 million tons to 4.5 million, given a smaller crop.
- Romania up 300,000 tons to 500,000 as the crop is more than triple last year's record low level.
- Ukraine up 500,000 tons to 3.5 million due to a larger-than-anticipated harvest.
- Uzbekistan up from zero to 100,000 tons, as a large crop allows for some exports.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2003/2004

Selected Exporters

- Argentina up about 350,000 tons to 7.3 million, reflecting year-end trade data.
- Canada up more than 100,000 tons to 15.6 million, given year-end trade data.
- Russia down 300,000 tons to 3.2 million due to late-season trade data.
- Uzbekistan up 450,000 tons from zero. Expanded production allowed Uzbekistan to export significant quantities to nearby markets.
- United States up nearly 300,000 tons to 32.3 million, accounting for year-end Census data.

Selected Importers

- China up about 250,000 tons to 3.7 million in light of year-end trade data.
- Philippines up 100,000 tons to 3.0 million due to late-season trade data.
- United States down over 100,000 tons to 1.8 million, reflecting year-end Census data.

RICE: WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE

MONTHLY HIGHLIGHTS:

Where have all the major markets gone? Part One: Indonesia, the world's largest rice importer in 2003 of 2.75 million tons, is now estimated to import only 800,000 tons in 2004. That would be the first time since 1997 that imports would be less than a million tons. The collapse is due to the government-imposed import ban, which has been extended through the end of the year because of record production. Despite that official ban, however, traders acknowledge that rice is still being imported (200,000 tons in the first few months of the year). Food aid has also been subject to the import ban; however, donations are now being cleared on a case-by-case basis. Imports are expected to increase next year to 1.5 million tons.

PRICES:

International: World prices have been stagnant to lower over the past month. Despite surging demand for parboiled rice, white rice trade eased. Thai 100B prices fell $2 over the month, with quotes currently at $244 per ton, FOB. Viet prices were also flat as the government continues to discourage new contracts. Viet 5% is quoted at $231 per ton, FOB, down $1 from last month. India 5% remains at $252 per ton, FOB. The government announcement on export policy doused Indian exporters' hopes for grain export subsidies.

Domestic: U.S. #2/4 long grain milled rice is currently quoted at $340 per ton, FOB, down only $6 from last month. The spread between U.S. and Thai prices continues to hover around $100 per ton. Prices for U.S. #1/4 medium grain milled rice from California are not being quoted as the harvest for new crop is in the beginning stages.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2005

Selected Exporters

- Australia is cut 150,000 tons to 350,000 based on smaller production and smaller exportable supplies.
- Vietnam is down 250,000 tons to 3.75 million due to less import demand in Southeast Asia, particularly Indonesia and the Philippines.

Selected Importers

- Indonesia drops 300,000 tons to 1.5 million due to forecast record production.
- North Korea is boosted 200,000 tons to 500,000 as food aid is expected to continue.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2004

Selected Exporters

- Argentina and Uruguay are down 75,000 tons to 300,000 and 700,000 tons, respectively, as regional demand has waned due to a bumper crop in Brazil and less import demand than expected in Peru.

Selected Importers

- Afghanistan is cut 100,000 tons to 200,000 based on the slow pace of exports from Pakistan.
- Indonesia is reduced 200,000 tons to 800,000 as the government-imposed import ban is expected to continue through the end of the year.
- North Korea is up 100,000 tons to 600,000 due to increased food aid donations.
- Saudi Arabia is up 50,000 tons to 1.2 million as a result of heavy parboiled shipments from India.

COARSE GRAINS: WORLD MARKETS AND TRADE

MONTHLY HIGHLIGHTS:

Corn: After a temporary lull in July, Argentina's corn sales and shipments resumed a robust pace in August, and exports are poised to remain strong through September. Brazil's exports had been unexpectedly high in June, propelled by substantial shipments to Iran and the EU-25. Together, these two countries are expected to export 15.5 million tons of corn in 2003/04, an increase of 700,000 tons from last month. U.S. exports, meanwhile, have lagged behind expectations and are estimated to ease by half a million tons to 48.5 million.

However, both Argentine and Brazilian exports are expected to slow significantly in late 2004 and early 2005, as their smaller 2004 crops combined with frontloaded shipments reduce competition with the United States during the months preceding their harvests in early 2005.

PRICES:

Domestic: Early September export bids for #2 yellow corn averaged $103/MT, down $1 from August. Prices have vacillated in recent weeks on potential frost concerns, but ultimately settled lower based on prospects for a record crop and less-than-robust new crop sales.

Early September export bids for #2 yellow sorghum (Texas Gulf) averaged over $103/MT, up over $4 from July but $5 below harvest time prices from September 2003. Sorghum is about even with corn at this time but commanded nearly a $6 premium last September. Seasonal price weakness caused by early harvest and softening corn prices has been offset to a degree by a pick up in shipments to Mexico and food aid tenders.

Selected Exporters

- Argentina corn drops by 500,000 tons to 10.0 million as exports are expected to slow down significantly in the coming months following heavier-than-expected 2003/04 shipments. Similarly, Brazil corn is lowered by 200,000 tons to 3.0 million.
- Serbia corn increases by 200,000 tons based on improved crop prospects.

- Australia barley is down 200,000 tons to 4.3 million as a result of increased competition from Ukraine.
  - Canada barley is down 200,000 tons to 1.9 million due to a diminished crop.
  - Ukraine barley expands by 500,000 tons to 3.3 million based on a larger crop.
  - Russia rye falls nearly 100,000 tons to virtually nothing as a very small crop will likely turn Russia into a net importer.
  - Ukraine rye is up 100,000 tons to 150,000 tons due to higher production.

Selected Importers

- Algeria corn is up 200,000 tons to 1.7 million on the expectation of higher consumption.
- Russia rye rises to 100,000 tons from 0 with expected imports from Belarus and Ukraine.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2003/2004

Selected Exporters

- United States corn falls 500,000 tons to 48.5 million as shipments continue to lag behind expectations.
- Argentina corn increases by 500,000 tons to 10.0 million based on robust sales and shipments.
- Brazil corn is up 200,000 tons to 5.5 million due to a strong shipment pace in recent months.
- Australia barley is up 200,000 tons to 5.0 million based on a strong shipment pace.
- Russia barley drops by 400,000 tons to 2.6 million as shipments slowed significantly in recent months.
- Ukraine barley increases by 300,000 tons to 1.6 million due to a strong pace and aggressive sales.

Selected Importers

- Algeria corn increases by 200,000 tons to 1.7 million based on a strong shipment pace.
- Mexico corn drops by 300,000 tons to 5.8 million because of a weak import pace.

- Peru corn is up 200,000 tons to 950,000 based on a strong shipment pace.
  - EU corn increases by 200,000 tons to 5.7 million due to strong shipments from South America in recent months.

Wheat trade year statistics are on July/June years. Barley, corn, sorghum, rye, and oats trade year statistics are on Oct/Sept years. Rice statistics are rough basis; trade year statistics are for subsequent calendar year. Rounding errors in conversion from international units cause some discrepancies with World Board Supply and Demand Estimates.

OTHER NOTES

Stocks: Unless otherwise stated, stock data are based on an aggregate of differing local marketing years and should not be construed as representing world stock levels at a fixed point in time.

Consumption: World totals for consumption reflect total utilization, including food, seed, industrial, feed, and waste; as well as differences in marketing year imports and marketing year exports. Consumption statistics for regions and individual countries, however, reflect food, seed, industrial, feed, and waste only.

EU Consolidation: The trade figures for the EU-25 for the years 1999/00 through 2002/03 are inflated by the two-way trade between the two groups (EU-15 and acceding 10). Over the past 6 years, this “intra-trade” has averaged about 700,000 tons for wheat, 350,000 tons each for corn and barley, and 150,000 tons for rye. The trade figures also include intra-trade between members of the acceding 10. From 2003/04 onward, all intra-trade has been removed.

Statistics: (1) Wheat trade statistics include wheat, flour, and selected products on a grain equivalent basis. (2) Rice trade statistics include rough, brown, milled, and broken on a milled equivalent basis. (3) Coarse grains statistics include corn, barley, sorghum, oats, rye, millet, and mixed grains but exclude trade in barley malt, millet, and mixed grains.

Unaccounted: This term includes grain in transit, reporting discrepancies in some countries, and trade to countries outside the USDA database.
